

About the publisher

Scientific-theoretical journal “Proceedings of Gorsky State Agrarian University” was founded soon after the University establishment and was called “Proceedings of Gorsky Polytechnic Institute”.

The first issue was published in 1922. Then, with changes in the name of the Institution of Higher Education the name of the journal has changed. For many years the journal was called “Proceedings of Gorsky Agricultural Institute”.

Previously the journal was published annually. Breaks in the publication took place during the great Patriotic War, in early postwar years, and in the first years after the USSR’s disintegration.

In 2007, the journal has received a certificate of registration P.I.№FS77-30743 with the title “Proceedings of Gorsky State Agrarian University”.

According to the recommendations of the Higher Certifying Commission in 2013 the editorial board included prominent national and foreign scientists who have greatly contributed to strengthening the journal authority.

At the present time the journal is included into the recommended by the Higher Certifying Commission List of leading peer-reviewed scientific journals and issues that should publish major scientific results of doctoral and candidate’s theses.

Some of the articles are regularly sent to the Central Scientific Agricultural Library to add to the database Agris.
